

SASA Student Travel Grant Program

The Student Travel Grant Program is sponsored by NCPF's Scientific, Academic and Student Affairs Committee. The purpose is to encourage dissemination of research findings from NC graduate programs to a broader audience at national conferences, and to support the growth of NC graduate students to become key players in their respective field in psychology. This award seeks to support such work by defraying some cost associated with conference travel. $500 will be granted per award. Support for the award comes from NCPA/NCPF and its members.

Eligibility Requirements:

- Graduate student (masters or doctoral) at a regionally accredited college or university in NC or current intern at an APPIC approved training site located in NC
- Student member of NCPA or submit membership application at time of award application
- In the 12 months prior to the deadline, completed travel to present research in poster or oral format at a regional or national conference

Application Restrictions:

If you have received the Wasik Student Travel Grant through NCPA in July of a given year, you are disqualified from applying for the SASA Student Travel Grant the following January. Therefore, you cannot win both awards within the same 12 month period.

How to Apply:

All materials need to be submitted by January 1 of each calendar year for support of travel in the previous calendar year. Electronic submission of materials should be sent to carol@ncpsychology.org. Subject line must include the following text: SASA Grant application.

Submit the following:

- Application form found on NCPA website
- Abstract of research that was presented
- Proof of abstract acceptance for presentation (e.g., copy of email from program committee)
- If student was not first author, provide statement from mentor/advisor that states student was designated as the presenter at conference
- Current CV
- Copies of receipts from conference travel totaling at least $500
